NEW TCM PROGRAM AND MEDICAL CENTRE

In September 2016, Humber College launched its Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) program, becoming the first publicly funded post-secondary institution to do so.

Tzu Chi Canada supported the program by offering bursaries to six students. Recognizing an opportunity to provide practical experience to the students while also benefitting the general public, Tzu Chi and Humber College formed a partnership to establish a TCM clinic on campus. The Tzu Chi Medical Centre of Traditional Chinese Medicine Canada at Humber College is slated to begin construction in 2017.

WHO WE ARE

As one of Tzu Chi Foundation's four primary missions, the Medical Mission aims "to protect and safeguard life, health, and love." Master Cheng Yen directed the formation of the Mission to relieve the immense suffering and poverty often triggered by illness. Tzu Chi currently has a network of six hospitals and clinics in Taiwan offering comprehensive health care to rural areas. TCM forms an integral part of our medical philosophy, and is often an essential component during disaster relief missions. TCM practitioners work side-by-side with Western doctors to provide patients with a complete approach to healthcare.

WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT

The Centre will have 15 treatment rooms, a training room, a meeting room, a pharmacy, and other facilities. The partnership calls for Humber College to provide 4,200 sq. ft. of space, while Tzu Chi Foundation Canada takes charge of raising funds for interior renovation, setting up the facilities, and purchasing equipment. In addition, Tzu Chi will assume responsibility for professional staffing and volunteer duties. All plans are currently going through both parties' approval processes.
